

Attention: Prohibition of Contact

- In Germany, contact to other people is prohibited with immediate effect.
- Everybody is required to reduce social contacts as much as possible.
- When out in public, people must always keep a distance of at least 1.5 metres from others.
- Time spent outdoors may only be spent alone, with one other person or with immediate family (this also applies to the Reception Centre).
- Trips to the city are to be avoided. Attendance of important appointments is still permitted as well as individual sport activities and exercise in the fresh air.
- Gatherings of people for parties - even in a private setting – are unacceptable.-
- Violations will be investigated and offenders penalised by police.
- Restaurants will be closed - only take-away services for food and drinks are permitted.
- Services in the area of personal care will be closed. Exceptions will only be made for services deemed medically necessary.
- The hygiene regulations must be adhered to.
